Legacy Pledge Form

If you haven't yet made a will, making a pledge to leave a gift in your will would let us know your intentions and enable us to plan for the future.

Pledges are not legally binding so you are not committing yourself. You are simply allowing Torch to estimate future support for our work. However, if you wish it to be legally binding, we advise you to consult a solicitor to draw up a will for you, which incorporates your pledge.

Please note that this pledge is strictly confidential and is in no way legally binding.
